INVITATION AND CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

Plant diseases have always been a threat to food and nutritional security, environment, ecosystem and human well-being. Intensification of agriculture coupled with mechanization, over-dependency of chemical inputs, globalization of trade and climate change scenario have invited various biotic stress related new challenges across the globe and thereby threatening the future global food and nutritional security. A concerted holistic approach for plant and soil health management may be an important and best alternative for increasing the food grain production at full genetic potential and that will ultimately address the food security and environment safety, biodiversity conservation issues simultaneously.

In collaboration with the Indian Phytopathological Society, New Delhi, the Department of Plant Pathology, BCKV, Mohanpur, Nadia is going to organize a East Zone Meet cum National Symposium at Farmers' Academy and Convention Centre (FACC), Lake hall, BCKV, Kalyani-741235, Nadia, West Bengal on 7-8th January, 2022 with the aims of bringing together the plant protection experts across the country on a common platform for exchanging their experiences, knowledge, views and innovative ideas for preparing a road map to handle the issues of plant and soil health management for food security under climate change scenario. The symposium will have lead lectures through prominent invited speakers, few oral presentations and poster presentation by participants through off-line (Physical Mode).

THEME AREAS FOR SYMPOSIUM

- Plant Pathogens and diagnostics
- Pathogen interaction with host, vector and Other microbes
- Ecology and epidemiology of plant diseases
- Recent approaches in plant diseases management
- Agro-chemicals in plant disease and vector management
- Secondary metabolites and plant disease response
- Industrial microbiology and mushroom
- Artificial intelligence and IT in Plant Protection

CALL FOR PAPER

Abstract: Original research work not exceeding 300 words (MS Word, strictly in Times New Roman 12 point font) must reach to the Organizing Secretary by email (ipsez2021@gmail.com), not later than 20th December, 2021 along with filled up registration form and details of payment of registration fee. However for lead and invited papers, the abstract should be within 700 words.

The papers submitted for M.J. Narasimhan Academic Merit Award – 2021 should be marked “Narashiman Award-2021” at right top of the text.

Oral Presentation: All oral presentation should be made through LCD projector and the Organizer requires a copy of presentation for making it available to the participants either through website or onsite in a CD in the Symposium.

Poster: The size of the poster shall be 75cm x 100cm briefly showing Title, Introduction, Methodology, Significant Findings (along with not more than three photographs) and bulleted Summary. The poster shall be made attractive, brief, where full sentences are not mandatory. It should be composed on a single sheet with appropriate colour scheme so that the content is readable from a distance of at least one meter. The poster display requires conforming to the above standards and pasting of several small pieces of black and white A4 papers should be avoided. A two page handout may be brought to be provided to those who desire for them. A soft copy of poster is to be submitted to the organizer for making it accessible to the participants either through website or available onsite in a CD during the Symposium.

Language: Official language of the Symposium will be english only.
